

REDUCE YOUR USE OF PESTICIDES

P3

Pests • Plants • People

The Boulder County Hazardous Materials Management Facility received over 54,000 pounds of pesticides and herbicides in 2019, costing the county over $95,000 to dispose of. In addition to the economic cost, these chemicals can also have negative impacts to the environment and our safety. This campaign aims to inspire awareness of alternate pest management methods and to reduce the use of pesticides and herbicides in homes.

Reduce your use with alternative pest management methods. Start your garden off with a healthy foundation and use pesticides and herbicides as a last resort.

Visit our website for more information and handouts and follow us on Facebook for tips to reduce your use of pesticides.

We will be sharing tips on:

- Purchasing only what you need and prevent over-buying.
- Maintaining a chemical free lawn and garden.
- Ways to prevent pests in your home.
- Safe storage reminders for pesticides for a healthy home environment.

Boulder County, City and County of Broomfield, and Town of Erie residents can drop off pesticides and herbicides at:
