

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The Boulder District Attorney's Center for Prevention and Restorative Justice offers volunteer opportunities in:

Restorative Justice Facilitation

Our annual 25-hour training prepares you to facilitate RJ processes and includes RJ principles and practices, how an RJ process works, valuable facilitation skills, and lots of practice!

Community Member Representation

In this quarterly 4-hr training you will learn how to participate as a community member in Restorative Justice Conferences to help those who committed crimes understand the impact of their actions on victims and the greater community.

Our team is always growing and we would love to hear from you regarding your interest in Restorative Justice.

We particularly need volunteers who are bilingual, people of color, young people, or who identify as male. All are welcome to apply!

For more information please contact:

Kelly Taylor Russell
(720) 204-8041

ktaylorrussell@bouldercounty.org