4 Transit will open a map of your current location. Tap on Where to? enter your destination.

- The blue dot in the middle of the map represents your current location.
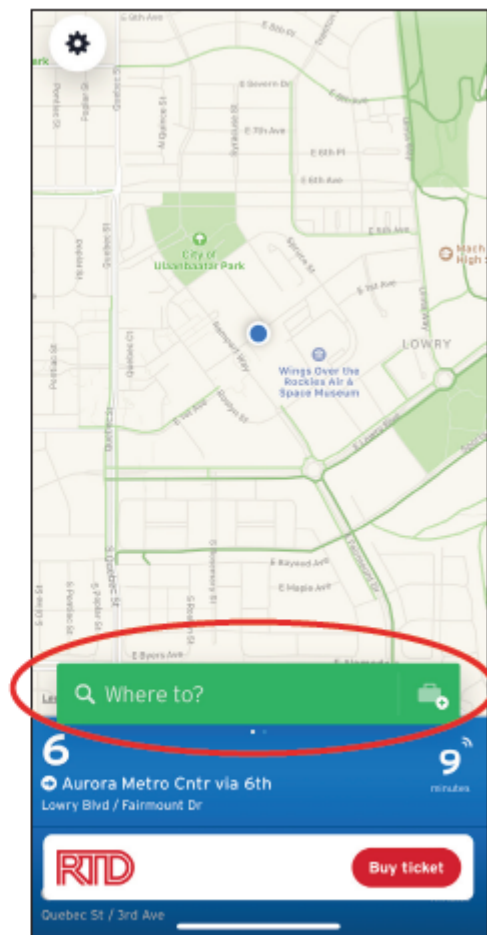

5 Start typing your destination in the green bar. Then, tap Search. On the next screen, tap Get directions.

6 Several options will appear. Simply tap on the option you want to learn more about.

- The first three are all public transport options.

- There are two carshare options, both with Lyft. One is for a shared ride, which means you would ride with a stranger. The other Lyft option is more expensive because it's just you and the driver.

- Tapping on Buy ticket at the bottom of the screen allows you to buy tickets. You must have an RTD account to buy tickets through Transit app.
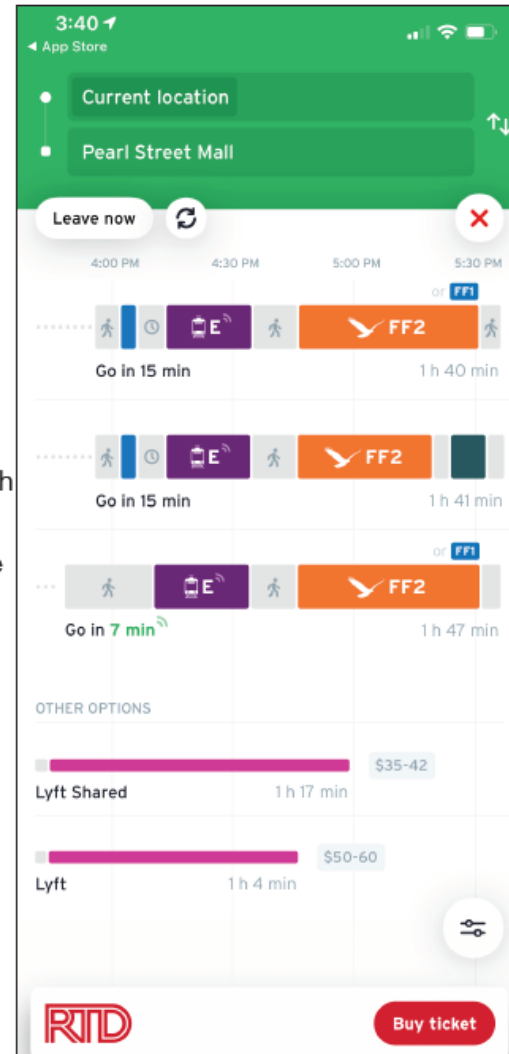

7 Once you select an option, you'll see an overview of the route.
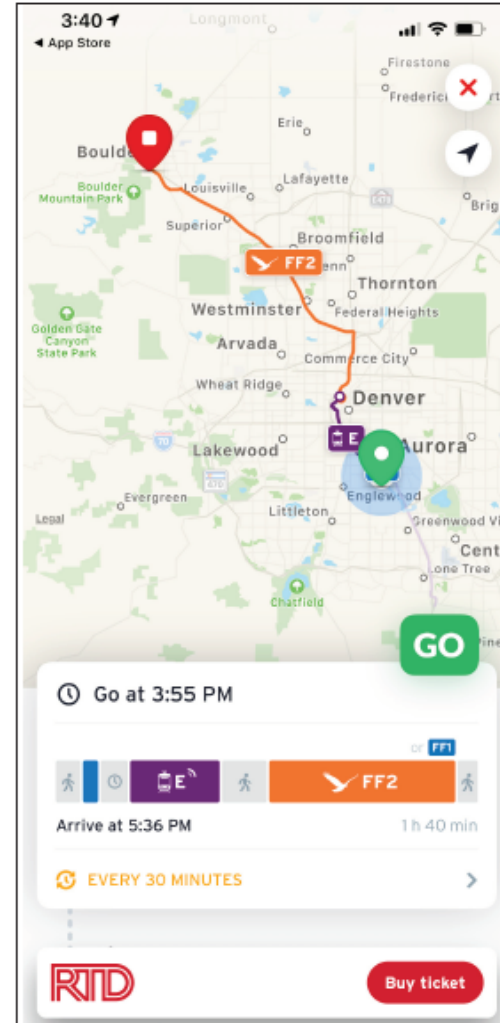

8 Swipe up from the bottom to the top o
the screen to see route details.
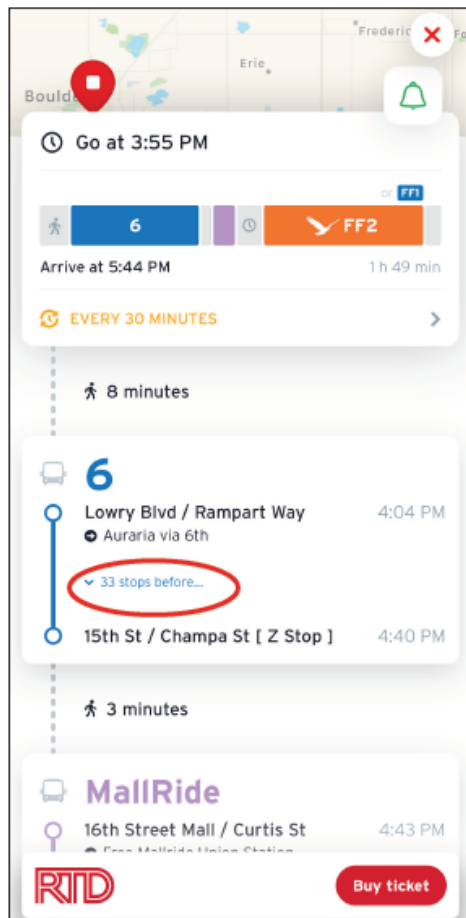

● Tap to expand and view details.

Enable Go

1 From the Route Overview screen, tap the green GO button on the map. Go tells you when your stop is approaching and turns off when you reach your destination.

2 Tap Enable notifications. If you get a pop-up message from your phone asking you to allow notifications, tap Allow. You will receive notifications like in the bottom right of this page.
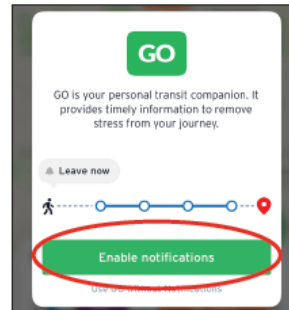

RTD Integration

When viewing public transit routes, you'll notice the RTD symbol at the bottom of your screen. Tap Buy Tickets to purchase your tickets.
- You must sign up for an RTD account or already have an account with RTD to purchase your tickets.
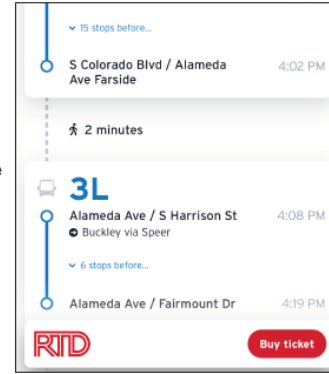

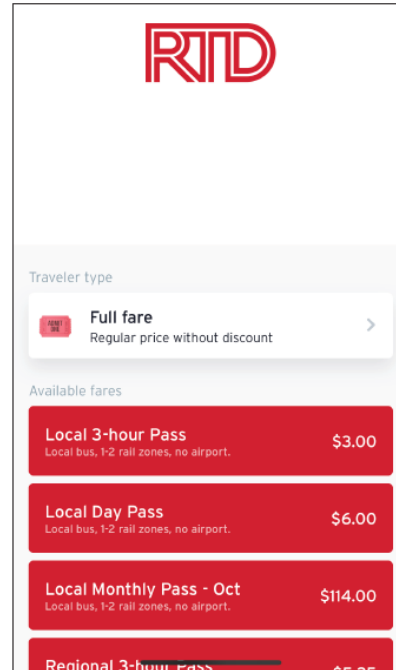

Ride Sharing

If you prefer to use a ride sharing service, select that option from the preview screen (p. 4). Selecting on a ride share service will bring up further options and a route overview.

- You must have an account with the ride sharing service (Lyft or Uber) you would like to use.
