Press Release – Massage Therapist Arrested
– Looking for Additional Victims

On December 26, 2022, David Chandler Smith surrendered on a charge of Unlawful Sexual Contact, during medical service, a Class Four Felony. David Chandler Smith, who worked at Elysian Massage in Boulder, was arrested on a felony charge of unlawful sexual contact for allegedly having inappropriate sexual contact with a client during a massage.

Based on concerns that there might be additional victims, the Boulder Police Department and the District Attorney's Office are seeking information from anyone who may have information related to this investigation. Please contact Detective John Sailer at 303-441-1830 or sailerj@bouldercolorado.gov.

District Attorney Michael Dougherty stated, "We recognize the courage of the victim in coming forward and reporting these incidents so that the Boulder Police Department and the District Attorney's Office can seek justice for any victim and for our community."

If you have been a victim of sexual abuse, please report to your local law enforcement agency, or reach out to your local victim advocacy organization for support (for Boulder County residents, call MESA at 303-443-7300).

As in every criminal case, these charges are merely an accusation and the defendant is presumed innocent unless or until proven guilty.
