Part 1. Do You Have Children? Make a Plan to Protect Them

All parents in the United States should have a plan to keep their family safe in case something unexpected happens.

For example:

- You might get hurt at work or in a car accident.
- You could get sick and need time to recover.
- You might have to leave the U.S. for a short or long time. (This is especially important for immigrants.)

You can take steps to protect your family. Some steps you can start today, right at home. If you want to do more, you can also sign two legal documents that will help if you can't take care of your children or handle your money yourself.

Part 1 of this booklet helps you create a Family Preparedness Plan.

- The first section explains easy steps you can take right now to keep your family safe.
- The second section introduces two legal documents you can use if you want to do more.
- These documents let you:
 - Choose someone to care for your children if you can't.
 - Pick someone to manage your finances.
- The booklet also explains what these documents mean, how they work, and where to find a U.S. Notary to make them official.

Steps You Can Take Right Now To Protect Your Family

1. Prepare a File of Important Documents

Set up a folder or notebook with all your family's important legal documents. Put the folder in a plastic bag and store it in a safe, fire-proof, and flood-proof place. Tell your children, family members, and emergency contacts where they can find it if needed.

Make photocopies or take pictures of these documents and give them to a trusted relative or friend.

Here are the kinds of documents to include:

- Passports for all adults and children
- Birth Certificates for all adults and children
- Marriage License
- Driver's License or other ID cards
- Social Security card or ITIN number
- Wills
- Car ownership papers
- Home rental or ownership contract
- Registry of birth (for U.S.- born children registered in parent's home country, if applicable)
- Immunization records for all children
- Immigration documents (A-Number, work permit, Green Card, visa, naturalization papers, etc.)
- Guardianship forms for the children and Powers of Attorney for financial decisions
- Any Restraining Orders you may have
- Emergency numbers and other important contact information

2. Write Down Your Family's Emergency Contact Information

Complete the form on the next two pages. Keep the information in a place where you and your family can easily access it.

3. Fill Out an Information Form for Each of Your Children

Follow these steps to ensure your children’s safety and well-being:

1. Complete the Child Information Form: Write down the information for each child. If you have more than one child, make copies to use for the others.
2. Share the Form:
 - Provide a copy to your children’s schools.
 - Give a copy to anyone who might care for your children if you are unable to, so they have all the important details.

Date and Place of Birth (town, state, country)

4. . Tell Your Children’s Schools Who Can Pick Them Up

Make sure the schools and any programs your children go to know who is allowed to pick them up.

Update that information regularly. If you have a Restraining Order against anyone, give a copy of it to the schools.

5. Give Your Children Important Contact Information to Carry in Their Backpacks

- Work and cell phone numbers for mom, dad, and any other local relatives.
- The name and phone number of anyone who is authorized to pick them up after school or other trusted adults.
- Make sure your children carry this information with them.

6. Talk to Your Family and Children About Your Preparedness Plan

- Explain the plan to your family.
- Let your children know that someone will take care of them if you can’t, even for a little while.
- Reassure them that this probably won’t happen, but it’s important to be ready just in case.
- Make sure they know who will take care of them and try to choose someone they already know and trust.
- Talk to your children in a way that makes sense for their age.

7. If You Are an Immigrant, Make Sure Your Children All Have Passports and/or are Registered With Your Home Country

If your child was born in the United States:

- Visit www.travel.state.gov for more information on obtaining a U.S. passport.
- Register your child's birth with your home country's embassy or consulate in the U.S. This may grant your child benefits, including citizenship in your home country in some cases.

If your child was born in your home country, check with its embassy or consulate for more information on obtaining a passport.

8. Clear Any Warrants That Have Been Issued Against You...

If a warrant has been issued against you by a judge for committing a crime or for such problems as failure to appear in court or pay child support, try to get it “cleared.” You will need to go to that court and appear before the judge, either in person or through an attorney, or both. The judge may rule that you must pay a fine or go to jail for a while, but clearing your warrant removes a contributing factor for possible removal/deportation.

The Courthouses for the 20th Judicial District in Boulder County have a “walk-in warrant program”. Call the Clerk of the Court at 303-441-3750 to find out if you qualify and what day and where you will need to show up at 8:00 a.m.

Please note:

1. Victim's Rights Act Crimes are not eligible for the walk-in warrant program. For details, see <https://www.coloradojudicial.gov/courts/trial-courts/boulder-county> under Walk-In Warrant Information. You can contact the District Attorney's Office in Boulder County to try to set up a time to appear in court on a case that does not otherwise qualify for the walk-in warrant program.
2. Colorado law bans Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) from arresting people inside courthouses or in the immediate surroundings that serve courthouses (including the adjacent sidewalks, driveways, entryways, and parking areas).
3. Boulder County Jail does not contract with ICE to share documentation status of inmates, but arrest and custody information with names is public record, and therefore open to anyone.

Two Documents That Will Help Protect Your Kids Even More

If you want to take extra steps to protect your family, you can fill out two legal documents that help in case you can't care for your children or manage your finances.

- Designate a Guardian for Your Children: This document lets you name a person to take care of your children if you can't.
- Designate a Financial Agent: This document names someone to handle your finances if you're unable to do so.

To use either of these documents, the person you choose must:

- Be a U.S. citizen or a legal permanent resident (with a Green Card).
- Be 18 years or older.

Family members can be named as Guardians or Financial Agents if they meet these requirements.

Notarizing Your Documents

- It's a good idea to get your documents notarized. A Notary Public will first confirm your identity. To do this, you need to show your ID and sign the documents in front of the Notary and two witnesses. The Notary will then stamp the documents.
- In some cases, you may not need notarization, but having it gives your documents extra authority and is often required by banks or immigration officials.

If you don't have the required ID, you and your witnesses can still sign and date the documents. Keep these documents with your other important records.

Information About U.S. Notaries

A Notary in the U.S. is not the same as a "Notario Público" in Mexico and many other countries. In the U.S. there are many more Notaries, and they are generally not lawyers. You will also not need to pay more than $5-10 for each document you want to have stamped.

What Identification Is Required to Get Your Documents Stamped by a Notary?

You will need to show current identification issued by a state or federal government that includes:

1. Your photo
2. Your signature

Both the photo and signature must match the one you use when signing the document.

Common Forms of Accepted Identification:

- Always accepted:
 - U.S. Green Card
 - U.S. Passport
 - Military ID card
 - State-issued driver's license or ID card

- Sometimes accepted:

- Passport from another country
- ID issued by a foreign consulate in the U.S.
- "Limited" Colorado driver's license for undocumented residents
- ID from a college or school

Information About U.S. Notaries

Where can you find a Notary?

Some community organizations have Notaries that anyone can use. Here are some places to find Notaries. You may need to leave a voice message explaining what you want and giving them your phone number so they can call you back:

- In Longmont
 - El Comité, 455 Kimbark St., 303-651-6125
 - Longmont Housing Authority, 350 Kimbark St, 303-651-8581
- In Lafayette, Sister Carmen Community Center: 655 Aspen Ridge Dr., 303-665-4342
- In Boulder, Boulder Housing Partners: 4800 North Broadway, 720-564-4610

Many banks have Notaries for their own customers and in some cases for non-customers. Some stores with printing and/or shipping services (like UPS) and a few schools have Notaries.

1. Providing Legal Safety for Your Children

It is important to decide on someone who will be the legal guardian of your children in case you are unable to care for them. This could happen if you become very ill, are detained or deported by ICE, or pass away.

- Talk to your family and friends about who would be a good person to be the guardian. Make sure the person you choose is willing to take on the responsibility.
- Fill out the form called "Appointment of Long-Term Guardian(s)" on the next two pages.
 1. Sign and date the form in front of two witnesses.
 2. If you want to get it notarized, wait to sign and date the form until you are with a Notary.

FAQs About the Guardianship Form

Q: If I complete this form, will I lose my rights as a parent now?

A: No. The document will only take effect if you cannot care for your children due to serious illness, being detained or deported by ICE, or death. It will also take effect only if the other parent is not available. Unless both those things happen, you are still the children's parent and fully responsible for them.

Q: Can I get my children back if a Guardian has been looking after them but later I can care for them myself?

A: Yes. You can cancel (revoke) the form at any time in the future if your situation changes.

Q: If I am married, should I list the other parent as the first possible guardian?

A: No, that is not necessary. The form assumes that the other parent will care for the children if the first person is unavailable. The form only takes effect if both parents are unavailable.

Q: Do both parents need to sign their own documents?

A: Yes, if both parents are in this country and available, each should sign their own form listing the same Guardian(s) for the children. If only one parent is available, that parent can complete and sign the form alone.

Part 2: Are You An Immigrant?

Know Your Rights

Everyone Has Certain Basic Rights...

Know Yours

Everyone living in the U.S. has certain basic rights, no matter their immigration status. These rights are protected by the U.S. Constitution, and they include protection against discrimination and crime.

- If you've been a victim of discrimination or a crime, you should not be afraid to contact the Boulder County District Attorney's office, the police, or the sheriff. They have Spanish-speaking staff and will not ask about your immigration status or share your information with immigration officials.
- Examples of discrimination or crime include:
 - Not being paid the wages you were promised by your employer.
 - Experiencing sexual or domestic abuse.
 - A landlord refusing to rent to you or charging you extra payments because you are an immigrant.
 - Someone vandalizing your home or car with hateful words.

You can also call CIAM (Centro de Información y Asistencia a Personas Mexicanas), a 24/7 assistance center, at 1-520-623-7874 for help.

Make a Family Preparedness Plan

If you are an immigrant and have children, follow the steps in the "Do You Have Children?" section at the beginning of this booklet. It explains how to prepare your family in case of an emergency. That advice is for all parents, not just undocumented ones

Know Your Rights

If you are an undocumented immigrant, or know someone who is, the next section is for you. It explains what to do if ICE (Immigration and Customs Enforcement) contacts you.

Get Immigration and Legal Information

In the last section, you'll find out where to get information about immigration issues and how to get legal advice from trusted organizations or lawyers in your area.

Know Your Rights If An Immigration Agent Contacts You!

If you are contacted by officers from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), remember that you have rights, whether you are documented or not. Here's what you can do:

- If ICE officers contact you, whether at home, work, in a car, bus, grocery store, or bank—do not talk to them.
- You do NOT have to answer any questions, and they cannot force you to talk. It is ICE's job to prove who you are and where you were born—you don't have to help them.
- Never answer questions from ICE without first speaking to a lawyer.
- If an ICE officer approaches you:
 - Stay silent. Simply say, "I want to remain silent."
 - Don't run away. Running could give ICE a reason to arrest you.
 - Don't lie or give false documents.
 - Don't say where you were born or how you entered the U.S.

Carry a "Know Your Rights" Card With You

- Cut out the card below and always keep it with you at all times.
- If ICE approaches, show them the card and remain silent.

To Immigration or Other Officer:

Right now I am choosing to exercise my legal rights.

- I will remain silent, and I refuse to answer your questions.
- If I am detained, I have the right to contact an attorney immediately.
- I refuse to sign anything without advice from an attorney.

Know Your Rights!

Do Not Open the Door for an ICE Agent

- You don't have to open your door to talk to an ICE agent. Once you open it, it's harder to avoid answering their questions.
- Tell everyone in your home, including children, not to open the door. You can put up a sign to remind them.
- If ICE comes to your door, ask them to show their ID by holding it up to the window or sliding it under the door.
- If the agent says they have a warrant, ask to see it the same way.
- Examine the warrant carefully because there are different types. Don't respond until you know what kind of warrant it is.
- You do NOT need to open your door if the agent has a search warrant, a deportation warrant, or a warrant for removal from an Immigration officer or court.
- Look below the signature on the warrant to see if it only mentions Immigration. If it does, politely tell the ICE agent that because the warrant is not signed by a Judicial Court Judge, you will not be opening your door.
- You only need to open your door if the agent has a search warrant or an arrest warrant with your name on it signed by a Judicial Court Judge. See if the line below the signature on the warrant says a State or District Judge. (ICE agents almost never have this kind of warrant.)
- If the warrant is from a Judicial Court Judge, you must cooperate with the agent and respond as directed. Step outside your door to talk to the agent.

You Have the Right to Speak to a Lawyer

- If ICE or any law enforcement asks you questions, you can have a lawyer with you.
- Simply say, "I need to speak to my lawyer."
- Below, you will find information on how to contact a lawyer.

Do Not Sign Anything Without Talking to a Lawyer

- ICE may try to get you to sign something to give up your right to speak to a lawyer or judge.
- Never sign anything if you don't understand it.
- You don't have to sign anything. You can say, "I will take it and show it to my lawyer, but I won't sign it right now."

Know Your Rights!

Always Carry Valid Immigration Documents

- Keep valid documents, like a visa, work permit, or Green Card, with you for identification.
- Do not carry foreign papers (e.g., a foreign passport), as they could be used against you during deportation.
- Never carry false identity or immigration documents.

Plan Ahead If You Think That ICE May Arrest or Detain You

- Take the steps in the Family Preparedness Plan outlined earlier in this booklet.
- Make sure your family and emergency contacts know how to find you if detained.
- Provide them with your A-Number (a 9-digit Alien Registration Number starting with “A” on immigration documents), if applicable.
- Families can locate detainees using the ICE Detainee Locator: <https://locator.ice.gov/odls/homePage.do>.
- In Colorado, detainees are sent to the ICE GEO Aurora Facility:
 - Address: 3130 N. Oakland St., Aurora, CO 80010
- Family members can phone their relatives by calling: (303) 361-6612 and asking for the person by name.
- ICE may ask for your relative’s Alien Registration Number. It will start with an A and be on any paperwork the person received when entering the facility.
- Undocumented family members should not visit the facility to see their relatives or attend court hearings there.

If an ICE Agent is About to Arrest You, Tell the Officer if You Have Documented Young Children

If you are the parent or primary caregiver of a U.S. citizen or permanent resident who is under age 18, ICE may “exercise discretion” and let you go.

Know Your Rights!

What to Do If You See a Raid or Arrest

- Take photos or videos if it's safe and you are not inside a federal building.
- Write down important details like the officers' badge and car numbers, and any other information you notice.
- Ask witnesses for their contact info.
- If you're hurt, take pictures of your injuries.
- Report the situation to:
 - CIRC (Colorado Immigrant Rights Coalition): 844-864-8341
 - RMIAN (Rocky Mountain Immigrant Advocacy Network): 303-866-9308
 - CIAM (Centro de Información y Asistencia a Personas Mexicanas): 1-520-623-7874 (24/7)

Getting Information About Immigration Issues

- If you have been a Legal Permanent Resident (with a Green Card) for at least 5 years, you may be able to apply for U.S. Citizenship. You can sign up for citizenship preparation with organizations like El Comité de Longmont (303-651-6125) or CIRC (720-593-2075).

Finding a Lawyer or Legal Help

Warning! Protect Yourself From Fraud!

Be careful about fraud. Only a licensed attorney or accredited representative is authorized to help you with your immigration case. Do not hire anyone who:

- Refuses to give you a written contract.
- Charges you for blank immigration forms.
- Promises good results because they have special contacts at Immigration.
- Pretends to be a qualified lawyer or immigration consultant.
- Asks you to lie on a form or sign a blank document.
- Charges to "get on a waiting list" or "put your application in line."

(There is no waiting list or line for immigration applications!)

- If you think you've been a victim of fraud, you can report it to the District Attorney's office, the police, or your consulate.
